It Carries a Total of $50,164,526, Including Continuing Contracts -Conference Reports on Other Bills Agreed To-Rush Work on the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 - The River and Harbor Appropriation bill was taken up in the Senate to-day. The totals are given in the committee report as follows: Amount appropriated for the year, $21,598,830; amount of continuing contracts authorized, $28, 565,696; total, $50,164,526. This is stated to be a reduction from the House bill of 34,770,889.

When the item of Boston, Mass., was reached, where the appropriation is reduced from $163,000 to $100,000, Mr. Lodge remarked that he approved the general policy of reduction followed by the Committee on Commerce and would not oppose it in the case of Boston, unless the policy should be overruled in regard to other improvements, in which case he would endeavor to have the appropriation for Boston increased.

This was done. Then Mr. Dalzell moved that the committee rise, but the motion was defeated, 5a to 132, despite the pleadings of Republican leaders that postponing action on the Army bill might involve an extra session of Congress.

Debate went on for two hours, Mr. Heppourn (Rep., Ia) dosing with an eloquent tribute to the "man behind the guin." In lieu of these the conference recommended the adoption of the following:

"The Postmaster-General is directed to investigate the coast of establishing and maintaining the delivery of mail in cities, villages and towns which are not free delivery offices, and to report as to athe feasibility and best method thereof.

"The Postmaster-General is directed, if he have sufficent available information to enable him to do so, to report concerning the advisebility of connecting a telegraph and telephone system with the postal service and the probable cost of the same."

Mr. Loud (Rep., Cal.), leader of the House conferees, said that while they believed the provisions in their proposed shape were not dangerous in themselves, they did not favor the addition of such legislation upon an appropriation bill. It meant, in his opinion, committing Congress to general free mail delivery and the establishment of a postal telegraph and telephone system as a total expense of many millions.

The report was rejected—42 to 78—and further conference asked.

House bill was passed authorizing appeals by either party from decrees of lower courts granting or refusing in appoint receivers in any case.

ABUSES OF HOUSE CLERKS. SYSTEM BY WHICH THEY RAISE

SALARIES OF OTHER EMPLOYEES. Locksmith Draws $1,440 as Messenger One Employee Who Has Worked Six Months Only in Four Years -Another Draws

$1.100 a Year and Doesn't Work at All WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 .- Although the special committee to investigate the condition of the employees of the House was appointed only on Saturday last, it made its report to-day, and it contains facts and figures which thoroughly sustain the charge of the rottenness of the system. The committee is unanimous in its findings, but is unable to suggest a remedy. It is found that the em ployees of the House number 357 and their aggregate pay is about $400,000 per annum The committee classifies the abuses under three heads: Transfers of employees from the duties of the positions to which they were appointed to other duties; unjustifiable payments of compensation to employees while absent from their posts of duty, and divisions

According to the report Alexander Mc-Dowell, the clerk of the House; William J. Browning, chief clerk; E. L. Lampson, reading clerk: Messrs Hatcher and Stratton, former reading clerks; Henry Robinson, disbursing clerk: Henry C. Campbell, formerly assistant ibrarian, and Thomas H. McKee, journal clerk, have contributed from $5 to $20 per month of their salaries to a fund for increas ing the compensation of other employees. These contributions were paid into the hands of Henry Robinson, disbursing clerk: William J. Browning, chief cierk, or John L. Morrison, stationery clerk, and by them disbursed to the persons whose salaries were thus provided or increased. One instance of the division of salaries cited by the report is that of Dennis E Alward, who entered the employ of the House in April, 1896, as superintendent of the document room, at a salary of $2,000 per annum and remained in that position until the be ginning of the special session of the Fiftyfifth Congress. During this period, by arrangement between the respective members of the House from whose districts the employees came, he paid at the rate of $400 per annum to the use of Oscar J. Hill, a folder, serving as messenger at the main door. At the special session of the Fifty-fifth Congress Foreign to this of exchange will be reafter a pay 2 cents for each $100, which is a reduction of 50 per cent under existing charges that the control of the per cent of the pe Mr. Alward became one of the reading clerks

HAY TO STAY IN THE CABINET.

Attorney-General Griggs Not Likely to Retire Before April. WASHINGTON, Feb 28.-It is learned positively that Secretary Hay will not retire from McKinley's first term. Heretofore no trustworthy information on the subject has been picion that Mr. Hay would surrender the portfolio of the Department of State. It is said in official circles that the condition of Mr. Hay's health may induce him to retire from public life in the near future, but nobody public life in the near future but nobody who would be in a position to know the exact situation is willing or able to say whether he will resign soon or continue to serve for the whole of Mr. AlcKinley's second term. It is also very probable that Attorney-Goneral Griggs will remain in the Cabinet until April, so it is likely there will be no change in the President's official family within the north.

ALBANY, Feb. 28 - Mark Twain received the privileges of the State Senate to-day upon motion of Majority Leader Ellsworth. From the presiding officer's rostrum he was intro duced to the Senators by Lieut, -Gov. Woodruff and informed that the Senators would be pleased to have him address the Senate.

Mr. Clemens said: "Mr. President an Gentlemen: I do not know how to thank Gentlemen: I do not know how to thank you sufficiently for this high honor which you are conferring upon me. I have, for the second time now, enjoyed this kind of prodigal hospitality, in the other house vesterday, to-day in this one. I am a modest man and diffident about appearing before legislative bodies, and yet appreciative—utterly and entirely appreciative—of a courtesy like this when it is extended to me, and I thank you yery much for it.

when it is extended to me, and I thank you very much for it.

"If I had the privilege, which unfortunately I have not—if I had the privilege of suggesting things to legislators in my individual capacity and my irresponsible capacity. I would so enjoy the opportunity that I would not charge anything for it at all. I would do that without a salary. I would give them the benefit of my wisdom and experience in legislative bodies. If I could have had the privilege for a few minutes of giving some advice to the other house I should have so liked that, but of course I could not understake it, as they did not ask me to do it. But if they had, if they had only asked me!

"Now that house is considering a measure which is to furnish a water supply to the city."

It was that of Senator' Slater's, which proposes an amendment to the State Constitution, providing that that portion of New York city's debt incurred in securing a water supply shall not be included in reaching a computation regarding the city's debt limitation as defined n the Constitution.

Both houses of the Legislature passed Senator Raines's bill which is aimed to secure the appointment by Mayor Van Wyck of separate bipartisan board of elections for New York city to be composed of four members The Democrats in each house opposed the measure because one of the provisions of the bill recognized the Superintendent of the State Metropolitan Elections District This bill is a companion measure to the New York city single-headed police law. The Republican and Democratic committees of New York and Kings county are each to file with Mayor Van Wyck the name of a person to be appointed as a member of such board and it is expected that the four persons so named will be as pointed by the Mayor, though there is nothing in the bill which prevents the Mayor from appointing any four persons he chooses without regard to politics. It was found that to insert such a provision would be unconstitutional, and that the Mayor's discretion in making these appointment's could not be interfered with. Col. Abe Gruber, the Republican leads of the Twenty-first Assembly district, was the star attraction last night at the annual entertainment and reception of the Riverside Republican Club in Colonial Hall at 101st street and Columbus avenue, where he sang to the boys. Col. Gruber sang three songs. The first one was entitled the "Song of All Nations," in which the artist successfully imitated German, French and Italian dialect. His second song was "Signor Bing-Binga, the Baritone Singer," which was sung with grace and ease. As an encore Mr. Gruber gave a little thing of his own which was not humorous, but it seemed to interest his midlence more than anything else. It went as follows:

I'll sing of the boys who are splendld
Good fellows throughout the long year.
The records will tell what the men did.
How they fought without question or fear.
They fought and they wen and forgave, too
Democracy fears them with cause
